

PRINTMAKING REVIEW

1. If fixer happens to get into the developer, it _____.
2. The instrument for moving prints from one tray to another is _____.
3. Adding extra exposure time to an area to make it darker is _____.
4. The device for increasing the size of a negative being projected is _____.
5. The device that holds the negatives in the enlarger is _____.
6. The box used to store unused photographic paper is the _____.
7. The best lens openings for the enlarger is _____.
8. The device for holding the photographic paper flat during exposure is the _____.
9. The darkroom should be illuminated by a _____.
10. The size of the image projected by the enlarger is controlled by _____.
11. The image brightness is controlled by _____.
12. The device to control the amount of exposure is _____.
13. The _____ an image, the _____ sharpness it has.
14. What is a contact print?
15. What is a contact sheet?
16. How do you make a contact sheet?
17. How do you prevent:
 - a. Out of focus prints?
 - b. Prints from becoming too dark or too light in developer?
 - c. White fingerprints?
 - d. Muddy prints?
 - e. Uneven development?