

On Saturday, November 4, the Association of Texas Photography Instructors conducted the judging for the annual ATPI Fall Photo Contest. More than 2800 entries were received this year representing 51 schools from Texas, Kansas, Iowa and Indiana. Our judges were Elizabeth Mellott-Carreón, an instructor at Collin County Community College, Melanie Burford, a Pulitzer prize-winning photographer from the Dallas Morning News, Darren Braun, a conceptual photographer and illustrator from Dallas, and George Fiala, Andrew Klein and Ed Salas, all professional freelance photographers from Dallas. Our thanks go to Scott Hunt and the students at St. Mark's of Texas for all of their work in organizing this year's contest. Jeff Grimm and students from Trinity HS also assisted in the seven hours of judging. Look for a four-color poster of some of the winners, courtesy of Taylor Publishing Co, this spring. If there are any corrections in the spelling of names, please e-mail info@atpi.org.
